Greta Garbo as an Artist's Model is Alluring

Greta Garbo will be seen at the Torrance theater Sunday and Monday in "Inspiration," an original story written for her by Gene Markey and directed by Clarence Brown.

Robert Montgomery has the leading male role and an imposing supporting cast includes Lewis Stone, Marjorie Rambeau, Judith Vosselli, Beryl Mercer, John Miljan, Edwin Maxwell, Oscar Apfel, Joan Marsh, Zaida Seana, Karen Morley, Gwen Lee, Paul McAllister, Arthur Hoyt and Richard Tucker.

It seems that in her latest vehicle Miss Garbo returns to the exotic type of role which made her famous in silent films. She is seen as an artist's model who becomes the toast of Paris as a result of her amorous fascination. Surfeited with the admiration of wealthy admirers, she falls in love with a young, provincial student who is already engaged to be married. The desperate strategies by which the impassioned model attempts to win over the young student, together with a subsequent unexpected turn of events, makes up the plot.

Gangland Romance With Little Caesar Star Opens at San Pedro

"The Widow From Chicago," with Edward G. Robinson, said to be one of the most intriguing and different tales of the upper underworld, comes to Warner Bros. San Pedro theater Thursday for three days engagement.

Film fans are well informed as to Chicago's after-dark activities, "X Marks the Spot," etc., but according to the story, "The Widow From Chicago," are now to become equally well acquainted with the love secrets and secret loves of Chicago's dominating gang-world.

"The Widow From Chicago" is not exactly another underworld story, according to First National Vitaphone officials, who produced the opus—it is rather a story of a smiling, smiling and loving her way through the warring ranks of an uncertain and outlawed army. How she succeeds—is said to be the interesting theme of the story of this attraction.

Edward G. Robinson, last seen in his most striking success, "Little Caesar," is said to give an outstanding performance in "The Widow From Chicago," and is supported by Neil Hamilton and a bevy of fast shooting and ravishing beauties.

Bebe Daniels

Bebe Daniels comes to Warner Bros. San Pedro theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in "My Past," Ben Lyon and Lewis Stone have the featured masculine roles in this newest Warner Bros. Vitaphone production.

"My Past" tells the story of a beautiful actress—loved by two men. Surrender follows misunderstanding and lasting love is born anew when she finds herself returning the caresses of the man she was afraid to forget.

Besko Show For Kids

The biggest treat this year—look! Kidd! look! Kenneth Harlan, who plays Gary Gordon in the thrilling mystery serial, "Finger Prints," will appear in person on the stage. THIS IS A TREAT!

On the screen, episode No. 7 of "Finger Prints" and the greatest of all dog actors, Rin-Tin-Tin, in "On the Border." More Moo-Yee Star pictures, more prizes.

General Grant's Bed Rests Will Rogers' Head

The famous Comstock gold mine at Virginia City, Nevada, may have yielded close to a billion dollars in gold, but Virginia City has produced for Will Rogers, distinguished wit and humorist, whose latest Fox Movietone "Lightnin'" opens Tuesday, March 31, for a three-day run at the Fox Redondo theater, something more precious than gold.

It is the bed in which General Grant slept at Virginia City before he became President of the United States.

Henry King, the director of "Lightnin'", was told that the bed in which Mark Twain slept was still at Virginia City, so he dispatched Harry Oliver, art director, to get it for the picture. There was no such bed.

However, at an old house the director found the bed in which General Grant had slept when he visited the Comstock mine so many years ago. Pictures of Grant are still on the walls and a banner reading "Welcome to Grant" still adorns the interior walls of the building.

The old fashioned and much worn bed was used in one of the scenes of "Lightnin'", after which it was presented to Rogers, who sent it to his Beverly Hills home where the famous wit and humorist proudly exhibits it to interested callers.

Lois Dresser, Joel McCrea and Helen Cohan have the chief supporting roles in "Lightnin'."

Whole Camut of Stars On View This Week

America's newest sweetheart, otherwise Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, are seen together for the first time in "Min and Bill," playing Friday and Saturday. Chester Conklin comedy entitled "Sky Scrampers" is also on the program.

Survival of the fittest is truly the law of the jungle as depicted in "Rango," the Paramount adventure picture which comes to the Fox Plaza Sunday only. Laurel and Hardy in their latest laugh-getter, "Chickens Come Home," is also on the program for Sunday together with a "Stranger As It Seems" and a Paramount act.

The undefinable charm and joyousness of Vienna the ancient and glamorous capital, is caught and preserved in "Viennese Nights," the Warner Bros. screen romance which shows at the Fox Plaza Monday and Tuesday. A Paramount comedy, entitled "A Sure Cure," completes the program.

The most popular yet least affected of screen stars, Charles Farrell, comes to the Fox Plaza Wednesday and Thursday in the Fox Movietone drama, "Body and Soul." Though it has a war background, it is not a war picture. Elissa Landi, whom critics acclaim as the most sensational "find" in years, makes her screen debut in this picture, which also features Myrna Loy, Humphrey Bogart and Crawford Kent. Lawrence Tibbets and Grace Moore in the musical romance, "New Moon," will be the attraction at the Fox Plaza for next Friday and Saturday.

Baby Orchestra Wins Big Crowd By Performance

Karl Molding's Hollywood Baby Orchestra made good on every advance promise made for them. The program given Friday night, at the high school auditorium, sponsored by the Masonic lodge for the benefit of the Torrance Relief, was one of the most pleasing musical events ever given in the city. The novelty of the affair brought out a large audience which was delighted with the adept performance and perfect poise of the tiny artists.

Little Billy Barty, two-year-old leader of the orchestra, won every heart and kept the performance at a peak of entertainment with his amusing little comedy stunts. Carol Kay, six years old, introduced as "our wonder violinist," played two difficult solo numbers and two trio parts beautifully. Her tone production and technique would do credit to many an adult performer. Miss Carol gave her best to the audience and was warmly applauded.

While not all of the orchestra appeared Friday night, those who did find their way to Torrance gave a very fine program. Orchestra selections, readings, solos, and a little one-act sketch made a pleasing variety.

Total receipts from the concert amounted to $208.40. It was announced yesterday by Giles Davis, chairman of the Masonic lodge committee. This entire amount was turned over to the Torrance Relief Society as the orchestra donated its program and there was no charge for the use of the auditorium. The lodge paid the incidental expenses.

Lendel Elder Wins Oratory Contest Here

Lendel Elder's presentation of "An Appreciation of Our Constitution" was judged the best of the nine orations on the Constitution of the United States heard Tuesday afternoon at the high school auditorium in the school finals of the national contest. Lendel is the son of Rev. and Mrs. George G. Elder, of 1134 El Prado.

The student-orator will next compete in the district finals to be held at Gardena on the evening of April 10. Lendel will contest the district title with the best speakers from the following high schools: Bell, El Segundo, Gardena, Torrance, Northridge, Buena Vista, Catalina Island, and Washington.

Warren Sapp's speech on "Lincoln and the Constitution" was awarded second place, and Ruby Avolun's discussion of "The Character of Our Constitution—the Greatest Desire of Mankind" was given third place. The other students who participated Tuesday afternoon were Wilson Page, Jean Solomon, Ruth Wilhelm, Alice Burger, Virginia Turner, and Bernice Baker.

The judges were Mrs. H. A. Young, Rev. G. G. Schmid and J. R. Jensen, local attorney.
